Curriculum Vitae

{% include base_path %}

View as PDF

Education

- Bachelor of Psychology (Honours), University of Sydney, 2014.
- Doctor of Philosophy (Psychology), University of Sydney, 2019 (expected).

Professional Experience

Research

- June 2017 - current: Statistical Assistant

- Using interactive learning to integrate statistical theory with contemporary research practices; University of Sydney Strategic Education Grant/Educational Innovation Grant

- Duties included: Designing and programming interactive learning apps to teach statistical concepts

- Supervisor: Associate Professor Ben Colagiuri and Doctor Rebecca Pinkus

- June 2017 - current: Research Assistant

- The development of attentional control in children with and without anxiety; University of Sydney Faculty of Science/Seed Funding

- Duties included: Programming experiments

- Supervisor: Doctor Micah Goldwater

Teaching

- Summer School 2018: Lecturer
- Introduction to Psychology (PSYC1001), University of Sydney
- 2015 - 2017: Tutor
    - Statistics and Research Methods for Psychology (PSYC2012), University of Sydney
- 2015, 2017: Tutor
- Advanced Statistics for Psychology (PSYC3010), University of Sydney
- 2016: Tutor
- Research Methods in Honours Psychology, University of Sydney

Skills

- Programming experiments and analyses in MATLAB and R.
- Conduct experiment including eyetracking (Eyelink) and EEG (BrainProducts)

Publications

{% for post in site.publications %} {% include archive-single-cv.html %} {% endfor %}

Talks and Posters

{% for post in site.talks %} {% include archive-single-talk-cv.html %} {% endfor %}

Teaching

{% for post in site.teaching %} {% include archive-single-cv.html %} {% endfor %}